

Stefani Scovolo

Songwriter (Topline: melody, lyrics) based in Los Angeles focusing on writing Pop, Dance, and Country/Crossover song material fitting for commercial radio. Stefani has a certification in Protools software and can record and arrange her own vocals from her own home studio when needed. Stefani is a BMI songwriter and has her own publishing set up under BMI independently. Currently, she is meeting with publishers to sign a publishing deal to collect on her recent and near future releases, but to more importantly act as a team that can actively work together with Stefani to further her creative career.

Singer/Recording Artist writing, recording, and producing song material not only for other artists but also on her own debut album releasing summer 2013. Her own album has artistic, emotional content fitting for film, tv, adult album alternative radio (AAA), and ads with an influence of artists such as Sia, Norah Jones, Dido, Taylor Swift, and Adele.

Host/ performer of her own songwriter rounds in LA featuring experienced and hit songwriters which brings together top songwriters, executives, and lovers of great songs.
